It's easy to stay informed of City news!

Fairfield, California (Thursday, March 23, 2017)— If you like to be "in the know" and stay informed as to what is happening in the city of Fairfield, there are a variety of ways to obtain current news through handy electronic outlets. First, on the City's website a popup box will appear on the homepage prompting you to subscribe to "Latest News" or "Press Releases."

YouTube is another easy way to stay informed. Subscribe to our YouTube channel, www.youtube.com/FFCATV, and receive real time updates when a City Council, Planning Commission, or Youth Commission meeting is streaming LIVE. Channel 26 also offers Live Streaming and On-Demand programming for all three channels: 26, 27, and 28.

Subscribe to the City's e-newsletter, The Observer, by emailing: enewsletter@fairfield.ca.gov. The e-newsletter, which is sent to over 11,500 subscribers each month, highlights special events, projects, and community meetings covering all City departments.

Like us on Facebook! We post several times per day informing the public of special events, meetings, road work, and general information. Be sure to share our posts with your friends and families!

My FairfieldCA is a service request portal that allows you to send your questions, complaints, and compliments directly to City staff. This service request portal is also available on your mobile device. Just go to the App Store or the Google Play Store and download the free My FairfieldCA app to stay in touch with your City.

Finally, remember Nextdoor is your neighbor to neighbor social media site that over 14,000 Fairfield residents use to network with their neighbors.

You can see it's easy to find out what's happening in your community!
