State of the City talks

City manager to meet with Fairfield organizations

Fairfield, California (Wednesday, March 29, 2017) – Fairfield City Manager, David White, looks forward to sharing City updates and plans with the community over the coming months. Beginning May 1 and continuing through August this year, your community group or organization can request a meeting with the city manager to discuss the state of the City.

White will be available to attend one of your group meetings to provide an update on the City's financial status, an overview of the City's accomplishments in 2016, as well as the City Council's goals for Fairfield in 2017. These thirty-minute talks are an opportune time for community members to ask questions and learn more about the status of the City from their city manager.

"Connecting with the community is one of the best parts of my job," says White. "Through informal Community Connection gatherings, attending events, and annual State of the City talks, I get to meet with people, exchange ideas, and share the exciting things that are happening in Fairfield."

If you would like the city manager to attend one of your organization's meetings, please schedule an appointment with the City Manager's Office Assistant, Shelley Tiran, at (707) 428-7400 or stiran@fairfield.ca.gov.
